CANUCK LAW
Reporting That You're Not Getting Elsewhere (Do Your Own Research To Verify)

AUGUST 4, 2021 BY RONNIE

The Climate Change Money Pit: Where Is It Really Going?

Ever think that your tax dollars are being wasted on the climate change scam? Well, they are. But at least, one can have a better idea of “where” they are being wasted. Here are some, but not all of the recent amounts in recent years.

Considering how little attention any of this gets in the media, or even in political spheres, it’s fair to ask why. Notice that scandals in Ottawa tend to be over relatively minor things. It’s a great way to divert attention.

Some of the grants contain little to no information, making it impossible to say for certain what's happening. They could be legitimate, or they could just be slush funds. This list only contains money handed over by Ottawa, not any Provincial or local efforts.

NAME	DATE	AMOUNT
African Development Bank Group	Mar. 31, 2021	$132,900,000
Agence Française de Développement	Mar. 18, 2020	$10,000,000
Alliance agricole international UPA-DI, CECI	Mar. 19, 2021	$16,589,517
Asian Development Bank	Mar. 23, 2017	$10,000,000
Canadian Co-operative Association	Apr. 1, 2019	$14,800,000
Canadian Coop Society for Int'l Development	Sep. 25, 2018	$19,177,873
Canadian Coop Society for Int'l Development	Mar. 10, 2020	$17,502,828
Canadian Coop Society for Int'l Development	Mar. 19, 2020	$8,030,063
Canadian Coop Society for Int'l Development	Mar. 1, 2021	$9,829,509
Canadian Foundation For Development Tech	Aug. 27, 2018	$399,141,615
Canadian Foundation For Development Tech	Apr. 1, 2021	$747,762,060
Canadian Inst. for Clean Growth, Climate Change	May 14, 2019	$20,000,000
CARE Canada	May 8, 2013	$12,000,000
Caribbean Development Bank	Mar. 27, 2012	$20,000,000
Centre for International Studies, Cooperation	Mar. 27, 2019	$13,000,000
Centre for International Studies, Cooperation	Mar. 29, 2019	$17,993,407
City of Richmond	Mar. 4, 2020	$13,780,000
City of Saint John	Mar. 11, 2020	$11,916,074
Cuso International	Apr. 15, 2020	$49,985,745
Federation of Canadian Municipalities	Jan. 31, 2017	$75,000,000

Federation of Canadian Municipalities Green Fund	Mar. 19, 2018	$62,500,000
Government of Northwest Territories	Sep. 13, 2019	$30,000,000
Government of Nova Scotia	Jul. 22, 2019	$90,000,000
Government of Nova Scotia	May 25, 2020	$24,997,500
Government of Yukon	Sep. 20, 2019	$118,212,428
Green Climate Fund	Mar. 25, 2020	$190,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	Mar. 24, 2016	$30,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	Jan. 12, 2018	$165,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	May 14, 2018	$20,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	Sep. 16, 2019	$20,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	Feb. 26, 2020	$16,500,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	May 29, 2020	$28,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	May 29, 2020	$410,000,000
IBRD Trust Funds – World Bank	Mar. 31, 2021	$35,000,000
IDB – Inter-American Development Bank	Mar. 28, 2018	$16,000,000
IDB – Inter-American Development Bank	Mar. 19, 2019	$223,500,000
IDB – Inter-American Development Bank	Mar. 31, 2021	$190,000,000
IDRC – International Development Research Centre	Mar. 24, 2017	$19,600,000
IFAD – International Fund for Agricultural Development	Dec. 19, 2019	$150,000,000
IFAD – International Fund for Agricultural Development	Mar. 31, 2021	$190,000,000
Oxfam-Quebec	Sep. 5, 2019	$13,000,000
Papyrus S.A. (Haiti)	Mar. 15, 2019	$13,000,000
Seedchange	May 26, 2015	$17,599,059
St. Francis Xavier University	Dec. 18, 2019	$9,797,119

Sustainable Development Technologies Canada	Dec. 10, 2014	$23,293,000
United Nations Development Programme	Mar. 8, 2018	$10,150,000
United Nations Environment Programme	Oct. 16, 2013	$15,500,000
United Nations University	Jun. 22, 2020	$10,000,000
UPA Développement international	Apr. 7, 2020	$12,015,755
World Food Programme	Jan. 27, 2020	$20,000,000
WUSC – World University Service of Canada	Jan. 5, 2021	$19,487,814

Keep in mind, this is nowhere near the full list of such payments, but does include many of the larger grants. Now, where is any of this going? While some are spent locally, many are handed out to foreign groups. Let's look at a few of them.

The Green Climate Fund is essentially a large slush fund that countries pay into, so that the money can be doled out to various climate programs, with little to no accountability. Of course, no one ever voted on allowing unelected bureaucrats to do this, but whatever.

> 4.3 Catalysing private sector finance at scale
> 21. Contributing to making financial flows managed by the private sector consistent with a pathway towards low greenhouse gas emissions and climate resilient development is key to realizing the scale of resources – in the trillions – needed to implement developing countries' NDCs, ACs, NAPs, TNAs, TPs , and other climate strategies. The GCF's 2020-2023 programming will aim to more systematically and fully realize the potential of the GCF to mobilize resources at scale, and support activities to increase the impact of investments, while encouraging a wider alignment of financial flows with countries' climate plans and strategies.

According to their updated 2020 to 2023 plan, the Green Climate Fund projects that trillions of dollars (with a "T") will be needed for developing countries to implement their various goals.

The African Development Bank Group is set up to hand out grants to companies that are working to achieve the UNSDA, or the Agenda 2030 goals. This acts as a middleman to write the cheques. Interestingly, in its FAQ section, there isn't a question about ensuring the accountability of the funds.

The Asian Development Bank, hands out money to finance a variety of projects, with climate change being one of them. It's interesting, given how nations like China, Japan and South Korea are actually more wealthy than Canada.

The Inter-American Development Bank works in much the same ways as others, acting as a middleman to hand out money for various projects related to the UN Sustainable Development Agenda. This primarily takes effect in South America.

Keep in mind, there is virtually no way to track the money once it's left the country. This means there is really no way to ensure it goes where it's supposed to. An astute person will realize how absurd it is for Canada to be borrowing money only to be sending it off overseas, at least the portions sent abroad. We will be charged endless interest for funds that will never benefit Canadians. An even more observant person will take note that the international banking system means private borrowing, and no way to pay it off.

But hey, as long as Canada appears virtuous in the eyes of outsiders, then what else matters?

(1) https://search.open.canada.ca/en/gc/
(2) https://www.greenclimate.fund/
(3) https://www.greenclimate.fund/document/updated-strategic-plan-green-climate-fund-2020-2023
(4) https://www.greenclimate.fund/sites/default/files/document/updated-strategic-plan-green-climate-fund-2020-2023.pdf
(5) Updated Strategic Plan Green Climate Fund 2020-2023
(6) https://www.afdb.org/en/about/mission-strategy
(7) https://www.adb.org/
(8) https://www.iadb.org/

CANADA, CLIMATE CHANGE SCAM, CORRUPTION, GLOBALISM, MEDIA, NGO/CS

2 Replies to "The Climate Change Money Pit: Where Is It Really Going?"

graceplacewellnessblog1

AUGUST 4, 2021 AT 4:15 AM

Meanwhile we have millions living on the street right here in Canada! This is a form of treason in my view because helping the UN is helping the New World communist government to take-over Canada permanently.

fredgeit

AUGUST 4, 2021 AT 6:53 AM

Pigs will always find their troughs.